PRESIDENT'S MISSION TO THAW ICE OF COLD WAR BEGINS TO SHOW RESULTS

Youngsters Recall Ike Rallying Cry

LONDON, (AP)—Two small girls with a sense of humor recalled to President Eisenhower the small fry's rallying cry of World War II.

As Mr. Eisenhower's motorcade passed the King's Cross Railroad Station, the girls held up a large placard saying:

"Got any gum chum?"

Ike grinned.

Ike Threatens To Call Congress in Special Session

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has told Republican leaders he may call Congress back into special session this fall if it fails to lift the interest ceiling on government bonds.

The President also has made it clear to the party chieftains he will consider such a session call if Congress cuts foreign aid funds below what he regards as a minimum level for national security.

The possibility of presidential action came to light as leaders of both parties gave up hope of winding up the current session this week.

Democratic strategists were setting Sept. 12 as the earliest possible date for an adjournment—without any action on the interest rate issue. Republicans were saying that Congress may still be in session when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrives Sept. 15.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois took pains Monday to squash a proposal by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) that Congress recess before Khrushchev's arrival and come back in October.

Eisenhower's concern over the interest rate matter was emphasized when Treasury officials (Turn to Page Ten)

Committee Gives Final Approval To Gas Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Public Works Committee gave final approval today to a billion-dollar gasoline tax increase bill to keep the interstate highway program going for the next two years.

The bill will go to the House Rules Committee Wednesday. It is expected to be approved by the House Thursday or Friday.

The measure would increase the 3-cent federal gasoline tax one penny for 22 months.

Highway financing legislation is one of the few remaining blocks in the way of congressional adjournment.

Chairman Charles A. Buckley (D-NY) of the Public Works Committee predicted House passage, but said there might be trouble with the Senate.

More Students Trudge Off to Integrated Schools in South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
School integration has started in several Southern cities without the violence which marked the opening of classes in some sections in the past.

An increasing number of Negro youngsters are trudging off to integrated schools. They are expected to be joined by others later this week and next.

The changes are mostly in the upper and border states. Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina are holding firm to traditional separate schools for white children and Negroes.

Potential trouble at the Dollarway School District near Pine Bluff, Ark., has been postponed temporarily. The Sept. 8 opening

Khrush Invitation Finds No Backers

HARRISBURG (AP)—An invitation for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to speak before the Pennsylvania House of Representatives was drawn up Monday night but nobody would endorse it.

The invitation was proposed by Rep. Francis Worley (R-Adams).

House Speaker H. G. Andrews' reaction was terse: "Not as long as I'm speaker," he said, puffing on his pipe until the coals glowed brightly.

Cancer Patient May Be Victim of Hoax Over Estate

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A report that a Pittsburgh cancer victim had inherited 2 million dollars from a rich uncle in Scotland may be a hoax.

Mrs. Felice Naccarelli, 46, who says she has only one year to live, claimed Monday she had received a notice telling her she was the heiress of the vast estate of John Lennon of Aberdeen.

A search of Scotland has located no John Lennon; no one has died there recently leaving anything like 2 million dollars to an American, and no former marine engineer by the name of Lennon who helped design the Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth ocean liners—as John Lennon was supposed to have done.

Mrs. Naccarelli was slated to fly to Scotland to claim her heritage but the trip appears highly doubtful now.

Her husband, a Pittsburgh cement contractor, said today the estate "may be two million—it may be two hundred dollars, I don't know."

Neither of the Naccarellis was exactly sure where the two million dollar figure came from. Mrs. Naccarelli said she thought she recalled that a New York attorney telephoned with the news.

There was another report that two telegrams arrived from two Scottish aunts of Mrs. Naccarelli's telling her that her uncle was dead and asking her to come to Scotland.

Mrs. Naccarelli said today she was not sure when she would leave for Scotland. "I'm feeling sick. It all depends on what my doctor advises," she said.

Thirty-Day Outlook for Weather Above Normal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau says its 30-day outlook for September calls for temperatures to average above seasonal normals over the western half of the nation and also over the Middle and North Atlantic states.

Greatest departures from normal are expected over the Northern Plains and the Far Southwest, the bureau added Monday. Near Normal temperatures are anticipated for the remaining area except for below normal in the Middle Mississippi Valley.

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over the eastern third of the nation but be deficient over the western half. In the remaining areas normal rainfall is indicated, the bureau said.

Ike Signs $977,345,608 Appropriation Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower signed today a catchall $977,345,608 appropriation bill to finance numerous government agencies. He took his action in London during a one-day break in his diplomatic tour of Europe.

Included in the total is $500,575,000 for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Full-Dress Labor Debate Opens Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate House labor bill conferees meet again today with renewed hopes for agreement without a Senate floor fight.

Both sides appeared wary of opening a full-dress labor debate on the Senate floor and anxious instead to try to settle the issues in the conference meeting for the 11th day.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who had threatened to bring the controversy to the Senate floor for debate, held off on this move.

Senate Democrats fighting for modifications in the House-passed Landrum-Griffin bill leaned on an unusual ally, Republican Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, in the battle over one of the most heavily disputed points.

The hard bargaining in the conference appeared to have left two really hard nuts to crack.

1. Whether unrestricted picketing at a construction project should be exempt from the general ban on secondary boycotts.

2. Whether unrestricted organizational picketing should be allowed if the employer involved is guilty of an unfair labor practice.

The four Senate Democratic conferees are fighting for the first point. So far there has been no sign of give from the House.

Late Monday, Mitchell sent a telegram to an AFL-CIO official asserting the administration still favored such an exemption. President Eisenhower asked for it in his labor message in January.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) heading the Senate conference majority, hailed this as demonstrating the soundness of his side's position.

He said the construction site issue was the "biggest stumbling block" left in the conference, and added he hoped the Republican conferees would follow Mitchell's position.

Such picketing involves a secondary boycott because subcontractors not involved in a dispute often are shut down if a union pickets one employer on the job.

On the second key issue, the Senate majority wants organizational picketing permitted indefinitely if the employer has committed any unfair labor practice.

The House side argues that such a right should be given only if the employer has entered into a collusive or sweetheart type of contract with another union.

450 Traffic Deaths Holiday Prediction

CHICAGO, (AP)—The National Safety Council estimated today that traffic accidents might kill 450 persons during next week-end's three-day Labor Day holiday.

The estimate, covering 78 hours from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday, is 30 higher than the actual toll for Labor Day weekend last year.

The Council said virtually all the 71 million motor vehicles in the United States are expected to be on the road, rolling up about seven billion miles of travel, during the week-end.

Labor Picture in Nation Brightens Somewhat Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's labor picture, darkened by the long and costly steel strike and its effect on allied industries, appeared a little brighter today as threatened walkouts were averted in three major industries.

Agreements were reached Monday night as strike deadlines neared in the rubber, glass and meat-packing industries. They ended possible walkouts of more than 100,000 workers. Already idled by the steel strike are a half-million steel workers and some 150,000 other workers in allied industries.

Also on the brighter side were the ending of two strikes involving more than 5,000 workers and the 24-hour postponement of a threatened walkout against Pan American Airways.

At Cleveland, a general wage settlement giving 24,000 Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. employees a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase was announced by the company and the United Rubber Workers.

A walkout by 70,000 workers against the country's meat packing industry appeared averted at least temporarily after two unions reached agreement on a tentative contract with Armour & Co. shortly before the Monday midnight strike deadline. The pact with the big meat packing firm covers 14,000 workers at 27 plants.

New York Police Attempt To Curb Teen-age Clashes

NEW YORK (AP)—Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy has assigned 1,400 extra police to patrol duty from other jobs in an effort to stop the bloody teen-age clashes that have claimed four lives in a week.

He announced the move Monday night, and at the same time released statistics showing a steady increase in youthful crime in the city.

The figures on arrests for people under 21 since the year began show 57 for murder or manslaughter and 197 for rape.

Four youths were charged with homicide in the latest outbreak, the fatal stabbing of two 16-year-old boys in a playground Sunday.

Police said the trouble started when an 18-year-old boy offered marijuana to the 39-year-old mother of another boy.

Kennedy's figures showed that more than 3,000 youths under 21 have been arrested for felonies in the city since Jan. 1. For those under 16, arrests were up almost 15 per cent over last year. For those from 16 to 20 the increase was more than 12 per cent.

Kennedy said the extra police will be on the streets in "trouble spots" during the danger, hours from 6 p. m. to 2 a. m.

Congress Acts Wednesday On Veto of Bill Providing Funds for Kinzua Reservoir

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John P. Saylor (R-Pa.) said today he will vote to sustain President Eisenhower's veto of the $1,206,000,000 Public Works Bill. "It is unfortunate that this comes up at this time," Saylor said, "but in view of the President's being in Europe on the greatest peace mission in our time and Soviet Premier Khrushchev coming here shortly I feel I must support him." The bill, vetoed 11 days ago, included money for a number of Pennsylvania flood control projects, including $1,400,000 for Kinzua Dam on the upper Allegheny River.

Rep. John H. Dent (D-Pa.) said he will vote to override the veto but had no further comment. Rep. Leon H. Gavin (R-Pa.), in whose district the Kinzua Dam would be built, could not be reached immediately for comment.

DIRECTORS' MEETING IS ATTENDED BY ESTIMATED 100 TAXPAYERS OF AREA

Warren school authorities indicated last night there is promise of future relief from flooding of property below the Swick school site. But a spokesman for property owners who met with the school buildings and grounds committee declared this morning no satisfaction about immediate protection from rains carrying stones and earth was evident.

The meeting attended by an estimated 100 residents from the area of Fifth and Glade avenues was held outside the Swick home which is now administrative offices for the school system.

David A. Smith, spokesman for the property owners, said Worth Hammond, county superintendent of highways, suggested to the school authorities that a storm sewer be constructed. Officials are reported to have this under consideration. The superintendent suggested that the right-of-way be obtained and the sewer be constructed from the school site, under Fifth Avenue and into Indian Run. Only one property would be involved, it was reported. The owner, Lyle E. Shafer, 844 East Fifth Ave., has agreed to grant the right-of-way.

The meeting last night was told that Borough Manager George Gerapinos had contacted the borough engineering department. The engineers believe that such a plan would not increase the volume of water in Indian Run, something that concerned nearby property owners.

There was no discussion of how the project would be financed, Mr. Smith said.

Today, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Carl Whipple said bids will be received Sept. 15 for finish grading and grass seeding in the area bordering the football and baseball diamonds on the east end of the school site. He said this would act to retard runoff during rain storms. The superintendent said the contractor would turn over additional areas farther west for preliminary rye grass seeding and spreading of straw.

Coincidentally with the bid announcement, Charles S. Merroth, district state forester, commented on the flooding situation. He said the situation was "another woeful example of the disregard for natural forces and basic conservation principles." He said an extreme example of denuding vegetation from one area, failing to establish it on another and not providing for the consequences of more rapid runoff of water has "produced a headache for many Warren residents."

Melvin G. Keller, president of the joint school board, who attended the meeting last night, said he wrote the contractor, Brenz Construction Co., after the June storm. The storm caused the first flooding that left muddy debris on properties below the school site. The reply to the president's letter said nothing could be done about the situation.

Mr. Keller said it appeared to him to be a question of getting the contractor, architect and (Turn to Page Ten)

Sooners Gulp Legal Liquors For First Time in 52 Years

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahomans can taste legal liquor for the first time in 52 years today.

At 10 a. m. doors swung open at some 500 state-sanctioned package stores. An era will end.

Prohibition, born of Indian troubles and Carrie Nation oratory, will be a relic of this young state's past.

On the surface, strangers will find things pretty much the same. Nothing resembling a mass binge is expected. No public celebrations are planned.

The new era won't mean the introduction of whisky to Oklahoma. For 52 years bootleggers have been silent butlers of a flourishing illegal liquor trade.

They were accommodating as the barroom free lunch. Now they may become just as obsolete. Liquor representation without Elmer Bloom, right, treasurer of the S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A., Inc., has presented Richard Betts, chairman of the Warren YMCA's Youth Work Committee with a check for $225.

The community minded S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A.'s donation has enabled the YMCA's youth department to completely remodel its restroom. Fifty year old laboratory fixtures, plastered walls, floor and lighting fixtures are now modern and cheerful looking. Glistening white bath fixtures have been installed in the room which now has a tan ceramic tiled floor and a light colored nutmeg ceramic tiled wall.

Youths of the community are also now able to enjoy an up-to-date lobby game room which has been replastered and equipment repaired and replaced. A reading, meeting, and quiet game room adjoining the game room is under construction. The room which will be new in every respect has been made possible through Miss Edith A. Langdale and will be known as the George W. Langdale reading room.

Lay people who have been instrumental in refurbishing the Youth Department are Mrs. Eleanor Slick, Mr. Pierson Eaton, A. J. McDonnell and Richard Betts. The committee is planning an open house late this fall.

South's two heart response was the Jacoby transfer to spades and North's two spade bid the automatic response.

South's three diamond bid was natural, showed a two suited hand and forced to game at the same time. With a maximum 17 point no-trump including three aces, four good diamonds and the king and one spade North saw distinct slam possibilities and started the ball rolling with a bid of four clubs.

South's four diamond bid showed that his diamond suit was a good one and North could now count 12 tricks if South held the spade ace. His four no-trump bid was Blackwood (after a transfer bid any four no-trump is) and his five no-trump (is) and his five no-trump was an effort to get to seven. He wanted to be there if South could show two kings.

In the play of the hand South won the opening spade lead in dummy and led a spade to his ace. When both opponents followed to that lead he ruffed a spade high, played jack and a small diamond, ruffed another spade with dummy's last trump and eventually conceded a club trick.

Man Who Rides the Bike!

Though snow, rain, wind and sleet, Harold Richael, 65, shown astride his bike, has pedaled for over 24 years to his job as switchboard operator at Warren State Hospital. He retired yesterday. A familiar sight on the streets of Warren, he lives at 38 Hemlock Street. — Timesphoto Shattuck.

That's the man who rides the bike!

He is Harold Richael, above. He has pedaled his bicycle from his home at 38 Hemlock st., the 11 miles to and from Warren State Hospital every working day for the last 24 years. Yesterday he retired.

Never had to get off and walk. There are several hills on the route "but I could make them without dismounting," the 65-year-old bike rider declared. He has been employed as switchboard operator at the hospital since November 8, 1934.

Mr. Richael has been riding a bicycle for 47 years. He started when he was in high school so that he could earn some money delivering packages for the Baker and Johnson dry goods store during summer vacations. He smiles when asked why he took to bikes.

Economy. No gas bills or gas tax, no major repair bills, perhaps now and then a tire. He has bought only two bikes in his life. The first one he bought when 18 years old. He rode it for 26 years. He bought his present one on Nov. 18, 1934. How does he remember the date? Mr. Richael just happened to make a note of it in a book. He would have kept his first bike but mechanical progress forced purchase of a new one. He could not buy cones and bearings for the wheels on the first one.

A veteran of the Army in infantry of World War I, when he served in France, Mr. Richael is married to the former Iva Belle Churchill, a native of Warren. He was born in Clarendon. The Richaels have an adopted daughter, Mrs. Earle Nollinger of Warren and a foster daughter, Mrs. Ronnie Albaugh of Irvine. The Richaels were married in Warren on Sept. 14, 1921.

Before going to work at the hospital, Mr. Richael clerked over 11 years at Pickett Hardware Store and over three years at the Bradford Supply and worked at Penn Furnace and Iron Co.

Mr. Richael is a familiar figure in Warren as he pedals sedately about his business, wearing a black cap over his dark hair which is just turning grey at the temples. He continues to use trouser clips to keep his trouser cuffs from catching in the chain. Generally he wears a grey suit and carries a precautionary raincoat in the handlebar basket. At night when he set out for home, he used a flashlight to light his way. His regular shift on the switchboard was from 4 p. m. to midnight.

What are his philosophical reflections, now that he has retired? Mr. Richael said he had to make a living but at the same time he adopted a personal policy that "I could still do good for somebody else no matter what my work." He set about to do this the day he went to work at the hospital.

"I derived a lot of pleasure from being pleasant to people who are undergoing a trying experience. I always saw to it that I had a smile and a pleasant word for patients and their relatives as they arrived at the hospital."

Mr. and Mrs. Richael have been devoted members of Epworth Methodist church for many years. Mr. Richael is Sunday School treasurer and Benevolence treasurer of the Epworth Methodist church. "I have never come to work," says Mr. Richael, "without asking the Lord's blessing on those with whom I come in contact."

On behalf of Hospital employees, Dr. John C. Urbaitis, assistant superintendent, presented Mr. Richael with a wrist watch.

Historic Events Leading Up To World War II Recalled

By CARL C. CRANMER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The first wagonloads of dead and wounded returned to the German border at dawn Sept. 1, 1939. Adolf Hitler had announced his invasion of Poland a few hours before. World War II — with its mountains of dead — was on.

The immediate cause was controversy over the city of Danzig and the Polish Corridor, which Hitler insisted must be reunited to his Third Reich.

A world steeped in present-day emotions finds it difficult to recapture the moods and events of that day.

Briefly, six signposts pointed to World War II—Manchuria, Ethiopia, the Rhineland, the Spanish Civil War, Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Each sign, in its way, illustrated the disunity of world powers and their failure to act in time. The first aggression was in Manchuria in September 1931. The Japanese eventually took over Manchuria and put Henry Pu-yi, a former Manchurian emperor, on the throne.

China appealed to the League of Nations. Japan withdrew from the League. U.S. Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson called for collective action, but no world power was prepared to act.

Hitler, riding a crest of massed swastikas and supported by street crowds and storm troops, came to power in 1933.

By that time it was clear Japan had successfully challenged the League. Hitler's fellow dictator in Italy, Benito Mussolini, presented the next challenge.

Eager to avenge old defeats and expand his empire, he attacked Ethiopia in 1935. Mussolini's ambitions directly concerned Britain and France. But France failed to support Britain.

In March 1936 Hitler's goose-stepping soldiers entered the Rhineland.

Britain's Stanley Baldwin now failed to support France. France mobilized troops along the German frontier but did not act. (It was discovered later that Hitler was prepared to evacuate the Rhineland if French troops moved in.)

Events were marching so fast that they were stepping on each other's heels. The Spanish Civil War started in 1936 as a rightist revolt against a popular front government. It soon developed into an international testing ground for World War II.

This conflict ended in 1939 only five months before the start of World War II. Hitler already had taken his first steps on foreign conquest. In 1938 he summoned Austrian Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg and cowed him. Schuschnigg agreed to accept Nazis in his government.

The rest was easy. Within a month, the Anschluss of Austria with Hitler's Reich was arranged by telephone from Berlin. Schuschnigg resigned and Hitler flew to Vienna to receive the frenzied "hells" of Austrian Nazis.

The stage was set for the final aggression before World War II. Nazi propaganda began a drum-fire against Czechoslovakia. A German minority in the Czechoslovak Sudetenland was alleged to be persecuted. The surrender of the Sudetenland and its prized border fortifications was demanded.

Hitler's threats in defense of the Sudeten Germans found sympathy in Britain and France. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain believed it possible to appease Hitler by granting his demands. He and French Premier Edouard Daladier flew to Germany to meet Hitler and Mussolini. The result was the Munich agreement of Sept. 30, 1938, which called on Czechoslovak President Eduard Benes to yield the border areas. Benes' requests for British and French assistance were turned down.

Chamberlain hailed the agreement as guaranteeing "peace in our time." His hopes were soon dispelled. Benes, under pressure from both Germany and Poland, resigned. On March 14, 1939, his successor, President Emil Hacha, was summoned to Berlin and threatened with the destruction of Prague by air. Next day Czechoslovakia was declared a protectorate of Germany.

Appeasement discredited. Britain and France were belatedly aroused. Poland, it seemed obvious, was in line for attack. They declared they would go to Poland's assistance, and they entered into negotiations in Moscow for a similar promise from the Soviet Union.

But the Soviet Union was suspicious. Amid the negotiations, Moscow announced on Aug. 21 a 10-year treaty of neutrality and nonaggression with Germany.

Hitler had a free hand with Poland for 10 years, so far as the Soviet Union was concerned. He attacked at the end of 10 days.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Where are the clowns of yesterday?

"They're dying off," says Emmet Kelly, one of America's great clowns. "A lot of them have left the business. There aren't many new clowns coming up because the young kids don't see any future in clowning."

"In the old days, there were 26 circuses on rails. Even the smallest would have about 25 clowns. The Ringling Circus was split into two units with 40 clowns apiece. A clown could look forward to moving up then. He'd start with a carnival, and as he perfected his act, he'd get offers from bigger shows. Eventually he could work up to the big show. But now Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey has gone in for auditorium presentations and carries only about 35 clowns."

"'Twould be a sad day when the circus clown fades from the American scene. There are some young ones around, including those who perform on TV kid shows, but most of them are all makeup and noise. They haven't the background of years of struggling to evoke laughter from the toughest of audiences."

It's significant that Emmet Kelly is out of the circus and having the longest run in one place of his 38-year career. He is officially vice president in charge of fun at Pacific Ocean Park, where he spends his days mingling with the kids and making them laugh.

"This is the first time I've ever played an amusement park," Kelly remarked. "I've done just about everything — carnivals, circuses, baseball and basketball, movies, TV. But I've never been able to stay in one place so long. I'll be here 19 weeks."

Is there any hope for a revival of clowns?

"I know of only one new field that offers possibilities," Kelly remarked. "That's the shopping center. Entertainment for those neighborhood centers is getting to be a big thing. I'm thinking of getting up a unit to tour them."

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you a bit weary of heavy dramas showing the Negro in violent conflict with the white world?

Well, so is Harry Belafonte. "There have been too many lately," he said. "I'd like to be in a Cary Grant type of picture—something light and frothy."

It seems to me audiences would welcome a Negro in an easygoing, delicious, humorous story. I'm not talking about the Amos and Andy kind of thing, but something more sophisticated—about an average guy with an average job in an average situation, but one filled with humor."

Belafonte, who has been acclaimed as one of the greatest Negro performers of his generation, made it clear he wasn't forsaking the area of heavy drama altogether.

One of his goals is to produce and star in a life of Alexander Pushkin, the father of Russian literature, who was part Negro. "I'm lucky—I can afford to be selective," said Belafonte, whose gross income is reported to be in the pleasant neighborhood of a million dollars a year.

"I'm fortunate in that I can make my living in television, con-

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1959

Consider, as back-to-school time approaches, these facts from the National Safety Council:
Accidents are the leading cause of death to school-age children.
More than 2,500 children 5-14 years of age are killed annually in accidents involving motor vehicles.
More than 1,100 of those children are pedestrians.
A total of 150,000 children in the 5-14 age group are injured each year in motor vehicle mishaps.
One out of 12 students injured in a "school-jurisdiction" accident is on his way to or from school.
That's the problem—and back-to-school time is when the problem reaches its peak, according to the National Safety Council.
Solution to the problem?
"Parents," the Council said, "should teach their children to stop, look and listen before crossing streets or railroad tracks. It's not old-fashioned to be safe."
"Parents also should set a proper example. Don't expect a child to obey a rule you violate."
Some Council suggestions to motorists as the nation's schools prepare to open their doors:
Keep your car in good condition. Pay special attention to tires and brakes. You can't blame the garage man if your car doesn't stop quickly enough in an emergency.
Drive slowly near schools. And slow down where children are walking or playing.
Expect the unexpected from children. Most of them get hurt running from behind parked cars or crossing in the middle of an intersection.

UNUSUAL "NITE-LITE"
The Daily Press, St. Marys:
Sylvania Electric from its public relations office in Salem, Mass., has announced the introduction of a "panelescent Nite-Lite," although we have scant use for phonetic names, that appears to be a real sensation in the field of night time lighting.
According to Garian Moore, Sylvania vice president in charge of sales, the new light will operate night and day for five years at a cost of 3 cents or less per year for electric power.
Only .23 of an inch thick, the lamp produces a uniform light without use of bulbs, tubes, filaments or cathodes. First developed by Sylvania in 1950, the new type lamp has been used in radio and clock faces, telephone dials, switch plates, thermometers, house numbers and a variety of other uses.
Its purpose in the home is contributory to home safety, says Mr. Moore, "by providing a soft jade-green light to guide a person at night through a normally dark room, hallway or stairway."
Judging from all the nice things said about this new lamp it should attain sweeping success from coast to coast.

WORLD TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — That self-confidence and sweet air of nothingness which James C. Hagerty can exude upon occasion falls flat on its face overseas. He is a bit at home but London gives him the miseries.
This lively, 50-year old grandfather, President Eisenhower's press secretary, is one of the best any president ever had, at least from a president's viewpoint.
He has done so well since 1953 that two years ago he got applauded from opposite directions. The Binghamton (N.Y.) Press suggested he be named the Republican candidate for governor of New York.
And Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Senate's Democratic boss, said Hagerty had done such a good propaganda job for the administration he should be given a job to "propagandize the rest of the world."
He gets along all right with American newsmen who remember the superb job of information he did on Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955. The American press treats him gently.
But he clicks like a rusty lock in London. Two years ago the papers there gave him a big horse laugh when columnist Art Buchwald of the New York Herald Tribune stuck a needle in him and Hagerty jumped.
Buchwald thought Hagerty's news conferences during NATO talks were packed with nothingness. He wrote an imaginary good on the Hagerty school of philosophy and answers. This outraged Hag-

Here and There
Twenty years ago today, September 1, 1939, in the cities of Berlin, Danzig and Warsaw a world came to an end. Hitler ordered his troops to march and thereby set the stage for his own destruction and the destruction of that balance of power which remains only a memory in this era of the cold war. In Berlin the Nazi war machine was put into high gear. In Danzig, Nazi infiltrators seized the city. At Warsaw, the bombs began to drop. We were handling The Associated Press service on the Times-Mirror at that time as were three Press Correspondents in those key cities who are retelling those momentous, dramatic events in a series for this paper starting today and running through this week. They are Edwin Shanks, now on the AP's London staff, then stationed in Berlin; Lynn Henzler now AP chief of bureau in Johannesburg, South Africa, then in Danzig, and Lloyd Lehrbas, who was in Warsaw and later was Gen. Douglas MacArthur's aid de camp in the Pacific. It happens that our file for September, 1939, is at hand, for use in copying the news of twenty years ago for another column on this page. Headlines on the first page of the paper that historic day, September 1, 1939, make interesting reading today: The streamer says, "Nazi Troops and Planes Invade Poland!" A second line, in smaller type says "German Drive Reported Launched in Three Main Sectors!" Sub-heads contained the following information: "Request For Aid From Warsaw is Answered By Mobilization of All British-French Forces!" "President Trying to Keep Out!" "Capital Bombed by Planes!" "Fuehrer's Speech Reiteration of Failure to Avert Hostilities!" "Chamberlain Says Responsibility For Situation Rests With One Man!" "Overseas Veterans Urge Special Session of Congress Immediately!" Some headlines on inside pages are interesting such as "James K. Bell Now In Charge of Post Office!" "Seating Plans for Students are Announced!" "Hoff's Fall Term Opens!" "Local Schools Ready to Open Wednesday!" On the Sport page we find "Warren and Sheffield High Grids Ready for Opening!" "Gagliardi Pitches Two-Hitter as Clarendon Takes 1939 Title!" "Six Teams will Play in Gray-Y Football Loop!" A Survey of other pages shows Arch Bristow, "The Sage of Garland," was writing "A Country Column" for the paper. That the crisis was developing rapidly is indicated in the headlines found in the paper of the following day, Saturday, September 2, 1939. Some of them are: "Britain and France Delay Vital Decisions!" "Deputies Arm Dela-dier With Authority to Declare War!" "Believed Awaiting Fuehrer's Answer to 'Last Warning!'" "Advisers are Busy in Berlin!" "Italy Standing On Assertion of Neutrality!" "President at Work on His Radio Message!" "Poies are Resting Invaders!" "Duke of Windsor Reported Planning to Return to England!"

Justice Must Wait While Politicians Play Games
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Plain old politics of the dirtier variety is held responsible for holding up confirmation of 21 of President Eisenhower's nominations for federal judges this year. Eighteen of the 21 nominees are Republicans.
The bottleneck is the Senate Judiciary Committee under Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.). But Republicans charge that this course of inaction has the approval of Democratic Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas.
This is S.P.O.P.—Standard Political Operations Procedure. Democrats hold up confirmation of Republican nominees in the hope they can block them completely or force deals to get a few more Democrats on the bench.
THE REPUBLICANS PLAYED THIS same game in 1948, when they thought Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was a shoe-in for the White House. The GOP lost on that bet, but it now gives the Democrats a precedent to follow.
The monkey wrenches this throws in the federal legal machinery, however, slow down the wheels of justice appreciably. When there are vacancies in any court, its docket becomes jammed.
What these delays do to the nominees is even worse. A lawyer can't get new legal business if he is being considered for a judgeship. And when an appointment is held up for months by the Senate, it becomes a personal matter which damages the nominee's standing.
THIRTEEN OF PRESIDENT EISENHOWER'S nominations for the federal bench have been pending four to seven months.
Two were sent up last January. They are George L. Hart Jr., of Washington, for the District of Columbia bench and Walter A. Gordon of California for the Virgin Islands.
Six more nominations were sent up in February. One that really hurts is the nomination of District Judge Phillip Forman of New Jersey to the Third Circuit Court of Appeals.
Others are Bailey Aldrich of Massachusetts to the First Circuit, Anthony Julian to Massachusetts, Leonard P. Walsh to District of Columbia, Myron D. Crocker and Fred Kunzel, both to the Southern District of California bench.
Three more nominations that went up in March and are still hanging fire are Harold K. Wood to Eastern District of Pennsylvania, Lloyd F. MacMahon to Southern District of New York, Judge Henry J. Friendly of New York to Second Circuit. This last nomination may be cleared soon.
In April, two more nominations were sent up: William T. Sweigert (Democrat) to Northern District of California and Charles M. Metzner, Southern District New York.
IN JULY AND AUGUST, President Eisenhower has sent up eight more nominations on which there has been more political preparation and on which there may be faster action. They include: Carl A. Weinman to Southern District of Ohio, Algernon L. Butler to Eastern District of North Carolina, Charles E. Paul to Northern District of West Virginia, Judge Paul C. Weick of Ohio to Sixth Circuit, Judge Harry A. Blackman of Minnesota to Eighth Circuit, and James Duffee to be a judge of U.S. Court of Claims.
In the cases of two Arkansas appointments, a deal was made with Senators Fulbright and McClellan. Judge J. Smith Henley (Republican) was elevated to the East and West Arkansas bench and Gordon E. Young (Democrat) was named to replace him in the Eastern District.
President Eisenhower has insisted on Grade A Bar Association ratings on all his judicial appointments. This has hurt the Republicans in some cases, where political rewards had to be turned down by GOP's own party machinery.

Radio and TV
By PATRICK MCNULTY
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Next time you tune in "Gunsmoke," "Riflemen" or the other TV shoot-'em-ups, think of Sam Peckinpah. He's the fellow who puts the brave words in the hero's mouth.
Sam's a writer—one of a new breed that has grown right with television.
Writers for movies and Broadway usually are established professionals. And it's difficult for a barefoot boy with typewriter to break in.
Not so in television. Many of TV's brightest writing names, Pad-dy Chayefsky and Rod Serling among them, began just where Sam did four years ago — broke and hungry.
And many, Chayefsky, Serling and Aaron Spelling to name three, have graduated into the production end of the business. They are busy writing, directing and producing their own branchoids.
That's where Sam is heading. Why? Very simple.
That's where the dollars are.
Sam got the message after an agency hired him to write a movie scenario from the novel, "The Authentic Death of Hendry Jones." Sam's script was sold as "One-Eyed Jacks," a Western in which Marlon Brando directed and starred.
Sam got $4,000 for his trouble. The agency got $150,000.
Sam writes only Westerns. And he comes by his cowboy lore naturally. He was reared on a cattle ranch near North Fork, in California's rugged Madera County.
After four years in the Marine Corps, Sam had a brief fling as a drama student at the University of Southern California. He was working as a stagehand at a local TV station when a friend suggested he try to adapt an old "Gunsmoke" radio script for TV.
Sam did and the producers liked it. He wrote 12 more "Gunsmokes" and a score of half hour Westerns.
He is one of the creators of the "Riflemen" series and twice has been nominated for the Writers Guild of America's best Western award.

The number of married women in the United States reached a total of about 41,500,000 in March 1958, a gain of more than 3,750,000 since 1950 and of about 11,333,000 since 1940, it is reported by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. The rise has been particularly marked among the younger women, the statisticians point out. For women at ages 18-19, the proportion of those married has increased from about one in five to one in three since 1940, and in the 20-24 age group more than two

How to Keep Well

SCHOOL PHOBIA
The first day of school may be torture for the 6 year old. Many cry when mother says good-bye but this reaction is less likely to occur when the mother is calm and firm. If the tot spots a playmate in the classroom, home and mother are soon forgotten.
A variation of this problem is the day to day fear of going to school that starts about a half hour before and ends a half hour after getting to class. Firmness and reassurance by mother and teacher eliminate minor fears but a more detailed study may be needed to uncover a deepseated cause.
Some boys and girls are afraid to ride in the school bus because of memories of a previous accident. Others are panic stricken because of encountering a dog or an adult stranger on the way to school. Still others are bothered by older children, gangs, or conflicts with the teacher. Sometimes these excuses hide a more basic sense of insecurity.
The child with a school phobia is tense and anxious and is hard to manage every September when the parents struggle to get him to class. But nine times out of 10 the problem is not a school affair. These youngsters are afraid and show signs of anxiety on leaving home and being separated from mother.
In many instances this emotional response is fostered by the mother, who thrives on her offspring's dependency. This is particularly true of women who are unhappy in or poorly adjusted to marriage; they turn to someone to whom they are important.
School phobia usually disappears when the mother co-operates and uses common sense. These incidents are minimized by discouraging too much dependency. The relationship between mother and child is necessarily close during infancy and the pre-school years. Thereafter each must learn gradually to live his own life with separate interests, activities, and friends.
Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, addressed envelope accompanies request.
TOMORROW: Seaweed as a cure-all.
MATERNITY TESTS
Mrs. J. writes: Can motherhood be proved through blood tests?
REPLY
It has been said that maternity is a matter of fact and paternity a matter of opinion. Testing the blood along this line usually is more successful in showing whether the individual could not be the parent. In puzzling cases, the blood of the father and the mother should be tested in order to make a proper evaluation. In general, the blood shows whether the person could be the parent but is more positive on the negative side. By this, we mean the blood is more likely to show who could not be the parent.
WINE HAS CALORIES
L. W. writes: I'm trying to reduce and wonder if I should include in the calorie count the glass of white wine I drink every night?
REPLY
Yes, indeed. Depending upon the type of white wine, each glass contains from 75 to 140 calories.
A NEGATIVE QUESTION
Mrs. I. S. writes: Is a person with Rh negative considered to have bad blood?
REPLY
The 15 per cent of the population who have Rh negative blood look and act like everyone else. The only time it makes a difference is when having a transfusion or a baby.
LIVER DISEASES
L. F. writes: Is cirrhosis of the liver a form of cancer?
No. Cirrhosis is a condition in which the liver cells are destroyed and replaced by scar tissue. The two diseases may coexist.

Business Mirror
By SAW DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The steel strike drags into another month and today even those with big stock piles are getting nervous.
About three-fourths of the users say they can keep going until mid-October. But they also know they must stretch their stocks not only over the length of the strike but also for several weeks more before the steel mills can promise normal deliveries.
In industries tied closely to steel production, strike effects are still spreading. First came layoffs in the mines and on the railroads serving steel mills. Now salary cuts for executive personnel are being announced by such railroads as the Pennsylvania and Boston & Maine.
In a tally by the financial staff of the Research Institute of America only 30 out of 300 steel users report they've already been hit by shortages. But by the middle of this month 100 expect to be. And by the middle of next month 225 say they'll be burning.
Some metalworking companies also are facing up to labor troubles of their own which could close them even if steel stocks hold out.
Only about half of the companies are able to say when they expect normal shipments after the strike. Many of the others say they have tried to find out and can't.
Half of those thinking they know say they expect to be getting regular supplies in about a month after the mills start up. The others are more pessimistic.
And the institute says: "Some firms tell us they've been notified they won't be on the mills' fourth quarter books at all, no matter what happens."
The institute is a business advisory organization supported by private industry. Member firms polled are assured of anonymity — a practice regarded as making for more frankness.
For the long term, the picture is much brighter. Three months after the strike ends the steel industry and steel-using industries will be making up for lost production and rebuilding depleted stocks. This is expected to push the economy as a whole into new high ground well into 1960.
But the institute takes a dimmer view of the immediate outlook. Its financial staff says: "We've already passed the point where trouble can be avoided, even if the strike ended right away. Metalworking companies have passed the point of no return because it will be three to six weeks after the furnaces start again before the average customer can get normal deliveries, let alone rebuild inventory."
Those other than metalworkers already hurt include, beside the obvious ones of coal mines and railroads serving steel mills: Contractors who can't start new jobs without delivery dates on structural steel they'll need.
Plastic molders who may be running low on tool steel for dies.
Chemical producers who may be running low of steel containers and must cut back on production of some items.
Truckers who, like the railroads, have business in moving steel from mills to customers.
Over-all trouble isn't here yet. But it could come fast.

Miss Erickson developed her splendid violin technique under the guidance of several fine teachers, the most recent having been the late Marion Gerould of Warren.

An accomplished performer, with an extensive background of training in violin, piano and voice, she has been a member of the Jamestown Symphony Orchestra and performs with Warren Civic Orchestra. Her solo performances have been many throughout northwestern

Watching Your Dog Grow Old Can Be a Sad Event

Sam, the black Labrador retriever I've often written about, is growing old.

It's sad to see a dog you brought home as the friskiest, friendliest, funniest fat pup in a litter of 10, grow thin and gray and get a patient, what's-the-matter-with-me look in his eyes.

Oh, Sam still brings in the morning and evening papers and takes them to the cupboard where his dog candy is kept, so that he will be sure to collect for his daily chores.

But he doesn't prance any more, head high, proud to be doing a good job that invariably brings him praise, a pat on the head, and a delectable bit of dog candy tossed in the air for him to catch. Now his job is just a job that he does faithfully but slowly and without spirit.

The steady rhythm of a thumping tail when someone pounces him from a nap to pat him or to say, "Sam's a good dog," has been reduced to the slightest wag of the tip of his tail—the feeblest salute he can manage before dozing off again.

Bird season will be coming soon and for the first time, Sam, who used to quiver in happy anticipation at the sight of a gun, is sure to tire long before a day's hunting is done.

But the saddest thing of all, perhaps, is that Sam doesn't even have any natural enemies any more. Once he would climb a tree in hot pursuit of a frisky squirrel. Now he only cocks an eye with faint interest if a squirrel or rabbit scampers across the yard.

Once the other dogs in the neighborhood knew who was boss if they came in his yard or looked longingly at one of his half-hidden bones. Now he makes not even a feeble protest when his territory is invaded.

Yes, it's sad to watch a dog you love grow old.

Hideaway Student Has Chance for New Life

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A modest, likable Chinese student who says he hid away in the eaves of a church for four years because he "failed everybody" pondered a new problem today. TODAY'S WOMEN

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
Sylvia Wene is a Cinderella whose magic pumpkin was a bowling ball.

"I used to be a grocery clerk," says pretty, perky Sylvia, who stands 4-feet-11 in her bowling shoes. "Then I went bowling with my brother back home in Philadelphia when I was 17. He wouldn't let me play because he said I was too little. So I went back alone next day, and I've been at it ever since."

Today Sylvia is known as the first lady of bowling. Her many championships include the all-time highest average of the Woman's International Bowling Congress.

"I travel about 100,000 miles a year, giving exhibition matches and bowling lessons," she says. "I've been to Hawaii and Puerto Rico and Newfoundland and every state in the Union—except Alaska. Bowling has made a whole new world for me."

Sylvia urges women of all ages to get down to the bowling alleys. "A generation ago a bowling alley was something like a pool hall," she says. "Women hated to be seen going into one. Now they are big, clean, air-conditioned, with restaurants, snack bars, automatic pinspotters and closed circuit TV, so mothers can watch their offspring in adjoining nurseries, with registered nurses as baby sitters."

Sylvia is author of the "Woman's Bowling Guide." It gives detailed advice on everything from the proper clothes to the proper stance for the would-be bowler.

Forestry Office Adds Third Truck to Force

Warren office of Pennsylvania Dept. of Forest and Waters has received another truck which will be equipped for forest fire fighting.

District Forester Charles Merroth said today that the 1956 Chevrolet pick-up Army surplus vehicle will bring to three the number of trucks in Complanter District 14, this area.

Local foresters now have two trucks, the other being used by the forest inspector at Franklin.

Merroth expressed hope to have the truck in running shape within two weeks. It will be ready, the forester said, for the fall fire season, which will start during the middle of October.

Local forest inspector Andrew Marfink and Ted Dodd of Franklin, brought the truck to Warren from Harrisburg.

Sportsmen in Opening Fall Club Meeting

A call was given Warren County sportsmen today, to attend the first fall meeting of Warren Field and Stream club in YMCA at 7:30 this evening.

Former members of the club, those who actively participated last year and sportsmen not associated with the organization, were urged by club president Lewis "Bud" Jones to attend the meeting and join in the planning for outdoor activities.

Various matters are on the opening agenda. Included is a progress "push" on the club's Chancellors Valley dam, under construction to promote fishing and recreation for residents of that community; and the corn crib, located at Check Bros' service station.

Today being Sept. 1 and the first day that the new hunting licenses must be worn for hunting, a visit is expected from a game warden, and possibly the fish warden. Summer activities reports from the wardens is hoped for.

SKIPS IT—Ingemar Johansson may be skipping a return match with Floyd Patterson for the time being, but the heavyweight champion gets in his licks on the other side. Here he is jumping the rope in Oslo exhibition.

Hammond Iron Crew See Bucs and Phils

Hammond Iron Works sponsored the Midget Hot Stove team which carried its name this summer, to see a game between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia last Saturday.
Two car loads of the youngsters saw the Bucs whip the Phils, 11-1.
Accompanying the little leaguers were their manager Bill Grove and Tom Smith.
Grove said the boys had an "enjoyable" time. They also visited the zoo while in Pittsburgh.
Along with their manager, the players extended a "sincere thanks to Hammond Iron Works" for sponsoring their trip.

Buckaloons Make Trip

Thirty-six Warren boats of Allegheny Buckaloons Motor-boat club, a local organization, enjoyed an outing and trip on Lake Chautauqua Sunday. The boaters left the Jamestown boat landing near Art Metal and rode the waves to Midway Park. A picnic dinner concluded the trip by members and their families. Skiing, swimming and boating—of course—provided an afternoon of recreation for the Warren water-sportsmen.

Nation's Colleges Opening Annual Fall Grid Practice

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The process of picking the New Year's Day bowl contestants, national champion, All-Americans and the top professional football draft prospects begins today as colleges throughout the nation open fall football practice.
All the candidates were on hand to answer the official Sept. 1 call as set down by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. With the notable exception of the Ivy League, all had at least 20 days of spring practice.
This was seen as vitally important by coaches who promise to make the 1959 college season one that will have a host of changes brought on primarily by the success of the 1958 national champion Louisiana State and Army, the Lambert Trophy winner.
LSU's contribution is the three-platoon system that features its two-way (White), offensive (Go)

Dragon Hopefuls on Home Stretch Drive For Open Starting Slots

Six returning lettermen and many seniors, pressured by developing and improving underclassmen, are still in the running for a position on Warren Dragon's starting line as opening game with Corry is just 11 days away.

The slots are still wide open as returning coach Ralph Veights continued to run his 72 charges through twice-daily drills today. With opening of school Wednesday, the prospective players will begin once a day drills in the afternoon.

Today, the boys started their second week of training and in-shape drills. Coach Veights said the hot weather took its toll but the players are coming through.

Veights has a hard job on his hands in filling the many slots left vacant by 19 graduating seniors, including 11 lettermen, from last year's Section II title-winning squad.

The regulars, and returning lettermen, from last year who Veights will probably have to depend on heavily, are Jim Wick, Dick White, Jake Shulman, Bernie Hessler, John Colvin and John Mead.

Competing for end positions are Dick Fowler, Dave Grady and Jack Fallin. Bob Long, Jake Shulman and Larry Lawton are after the center slot.

Guard hopefuls include Phil Jewell, Terry Henry, Ed Rustau and Jim Forslund. The tackle positions are being bid on by Bernie Hessler, John Mead along with Jack Siggins and Jim Kervin.

The front wall is heavy, but not quite as fast as last year's Veights explained. There are several others who are trying to break into the line, "and could possibly do so", the mentor warned.

Boys for the line are big. It can be filled with players weighing from 175 to 180 pounds.

In the back is John Wooster, Mike Long and Ross Kremer after quarterback. John Colvin, Ron Seder, Pat Hartnett, Rod Betts and Ron MacIntosh have their eye on the half-back position. And of course Jim Wick is back for the fullback stand.

Chuck Grinnen, transferred from Oil City, is "coming along nicely," Ralph pointed out, as is

What a Difference . . . a Day Makes

Popularized Boating Cited As State Fishing Hindrance

Area fish warden Ken Corey of Clarendon has turned up a new angle that fishermen have failed to bring out in explaining why they have refrained from purchasing fishing licenses recently.

Although Corey himself received few letters from anglers who stopped buying licenses, many were received, particularly by fishermen who frequent the Lake Erie area, by wardens in that area.

A rash of motorboating on fishing waters is believed to be cause for a great many fishermen throwing up their hands at the sport, which has suffered a heavy decline in past year.

Corey said on major lakes and eddies in the Common-wealth, many boaters are taking to the water daily, causing misery to the fisherman.

"Something may have to be done to regulate hours or reserve part of the eddy" for boating the warden said. Boats, which have horsepower up to 70, makes it "kind of rough" on the quiet fisherman, Corey related.

A sudden drop in commercial fishing on Lake Erie this year sparked the State investigation on fishing license sales decline. Corey said fishing in Warren county has been rather poor.

"It's not because we don't have the fish," the enforcement officer said, because "this spring, there were more trout stocked in Warren county than ever in the history of the Commission."

"When fishermen hit the river this fall, they'll do all right in catching fish," Corey concluded.

Bonus Lefty Fans 18 Men Defeating Giants 5 to 2

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Since the turn of the century, only Bobby Feller ever had struck out 18 men in a nine-inning game. And only two pitchers, Jack Combs and Warren Spahn, ever struck out that many in a game that went extra innings.
Combs did it twice, needing 24 innings the first time, then doing it again in 16. It took Spahn 15 innings.
Still, they were the only pitchers to do it—until Monday night. Then Sandy Koufax, a bonus lefty who has been a long time coming, matched Feller's major league record, turning back San Francisco 5-2 as Wally Moon's three-run, ninth-inning homer boosted the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers within one game of the National League leading Giants.

Feller's record, set by Cleveland's one-time blazing right-hander in a 4-1 loss to Detroit, had stood for 21 years.

While tying that spectacular strikeout performance, Koufax also set a National League record, bettering the 17 hung up by Dizzy Dean for St. Louis against Chicago's Cubs in 1933.

Koufax, a southpaw, also bettered the major league record for two consecutive games with a total of 31. He had fanned 13 in his last start against Philadelphia. Feller set the old record at 28, capping by his 18 in the final game of the 1938 season.

With Koufax (8-4) pitching his first complete game against the Giants since he signed a $20,000 bonus with the Dodgers in 1954,

Former Coach at Penn State Dies In Suicide Leap

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Jourdett, who coached Penn State basketball for 10 years, died Monday from a third-story window of a tuberculosis hospital. He was 70. Jourdett had been admitted to the Samuel G. Dixon Tuberculosis Hospital 16 days ago. A state police report said he had a heart ailment induced by tuberculosis. Coroner J. D. Goshen issued a certificate of death by suicide.

Jourdett, a star player at Penn State, took over the coaching reins in 1914 and led the team to four Ivy League titles in six years. He returned in 1931 and remained head coach through 1943 season, leading Penn to three more Ivy League titles.

In 1949, he was one of a group of 32 selected by the Helms Foundation to the college basketball Hall of Fame.

For the past 10 years Jourdett had worked in a state liquor store in Lancaster, Pa. He retired last June 19.

Born in Frenchtown, Pa., Jourdett was graduated from Dubois High School in 1908.

Sizzling Pirates Staking Pennant Hopes on "Road"

By JOHN MOODY
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The sizzling Pittsburgh Pirates, who have played their best ball at home, stake their pennant hopes on a 15-game road trip that opens tonight in Cincinnati.

The fourth-place Pirates have won 15 of their last 18 games to pull within 3½ games of the league-leading San Francisco Giants. But all the victories were posted at Forbes Field.

By way of comparison, the Pittsburgh club won only six and lost 19 games on their last trip around the circuit. To date their season record on the road is 26 victories against 34 losses.

Manager Danny Murtaugh says "success breeds success." In other words, he thinks the victorious home stand has given the players a super confidence to tide them over until they return to home cooking.

City Cadet Laurels Go to DeLuxe Metal

DeLuxe Metal won Cadet borough championship playoffs, beating American Legion 8-5 on Memorial Monday.

Pace had control, striking out nine Legion batters, giving up four hits.

Pace aided his own cause when he tripled. Creola was the catcher. Brooks, Albaugh and Marti, Legion batteries.

Steelers Acquire New Offensive Halfback

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers, trounced 54-17 by the Chicago Bears in an exhibition game, have acquired a new offensive halfback.

They picked up Ken Hall from the Baltimore Colts Monday in exchange for an undisclosed draft pick. Hall, who played for Texas A. & M., was drafted No. 14 by the Colts last season. He was sidelined with a back injury.

The Steelers returned to their training base here Sunday after their Saturday night game with the Bears in Houston, Tex.

Area Foursomes Jam Roster For Zaharias Open Sept. 12

A great many foursomes have signed for the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Open golf tournament Sept. 12 it was reported today.

The tournament was described as "one of the finest ways for area golfers to round out their season's play" by joining on the foursome roster.

This second annual tournament is sponsored by Warren County Unit American Cancer Society. Proceeds are turned over to the Babe Zaharias memorial fund.

Few entry blanks remain at Busy Bee, New Yorker, Golf Tee Driving Range and the Kinzua Golf Club. The meet will be played on Kinzua Valley links, groups teeing off at 8 a.m.

Golfers will vie for the Sword of Hope trophy. Four awards will be presented to each of the men—only male golfers are eligible for this year's meet—on the winning team bringing in lowest net best ball score for the day.

Dr. Richard Peters, Youngsville, president of the local Unit, will award the coveted prizes.

The Zaharias Open, will be come an annual highlight of Warren area golf season "if local players continue to show interest," a Cancer spokesman said. According to general chairman of the meet, George Konkol, this year's field of players already surpasses last season's roster.

Next week's match will be played off on a four man team-lowest net best ball basis, with the golfers "bustin' a button" to win.

Early League Plans Include Six Teams

Norm Wooster, secretary of Warren Bowling Association, said today that another meeting for organization of the new County Bowling League will probably be held shortly.

First session was conducted at Riverside Lanes Monday evening with a "rather disappointing" turnout. Nummy said, however, that six teams can be formed, but organizers of the League said with work, ten or twelve competitive teams can be developed.

Schoendienst Ready To Return to Action

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Veteran infielder Red Schoendienst puts on a Milwaukee Braves uniform today and returns to the active player list for the first time since the 1958 World Series.

Schoendienst, regarded by many as the top second baseman in the major leagues, has recovered from his bout with tuberculosis. His recovery was speeded by surgery coupled with heavy doses of antibiotics at a St. Louis hospital.

A 36-year-old native of Germantown, Ill., Schoendienst was as surprised as anyone when his physician gave him permission to rejoin the team.

Diller Hanover Odds-on Choice in The Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Diller Hanover, a bargain basement colt who became the odds-on choice for harness racing's richest race, tries in the Hambletonian Wednesday to avenge the only two losses put on his sterling record by 3-year-old opponents.

Diller, a $6,300 yearling, drew the No. 2 spot in the first heat of the tradition-rich trotting classic. Many railbirds feel that's all the advantage he needs to capture first money of $73,654.98. He's won nine of 12 heats this season.

Competitors include John A. Hanover, winner of the $56,396 Yonkers Futurity, and The Silk, coupled with Diller as Ralph Boldwin's entry. Both defeated Diller Hanover this season, neither by much.

Fifteen horses go in the Hambletonian, which carries a $125,283.98 gross purse to make it the richest of all harness races.

Dean's Strikeout Record Erased by Modest Southpaw

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A strikeout record set more than 2½ decades ago by the forgettable Dizzy Dean has fallen before a fusillade of fast balls and curves fired by a young man who not long ago was most forgettable.

Sandy Koufax, who wasn't even born when Dizzy struck out 17 for the St. Louis Cardinals one day in 1933, fanned 18 Monday night at the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated San Francisco 5-2 and turned the National League race back into a tugging tangle.

The Dodger left-hander not only broke Dean's National League record of 17 strikeouts, but also tied the modern major league record set in 1938 by an Iowa farm boy named Bob Feller.

Koufax had this to say of his considerable accomplishment:

"I'm very glad to set a record. But I'm a lot happier that we won the ball game. We've got a chance to go all the way, and I'm glad I was able to do something."

"I never saw a game in which batters swung at so many bad balls. I couldn't see why the Giants were going for them—but they did."

Koufax, who fanned 15 of the last 20 men he faced, drew a standing ovation from the crowd of 32,794 when he walked off the field after the top of the ninth.

He was spared further labor by Wally Moon, who broke up the game with a 3-run homer in the bottom of the ninth.

Moon drove Al Worthington's third pitch into the left field seats and the Dodgers were one bare game behind the league-leading Giants.

Koufax, 23, was a forgotten man on the Dodger staff early this season. After a disappointing start he suddenly started throwing strikes. He now is 8-4 and has 150 strikeouts in 127 innings.

Semifinal Round Reached in Pan-American Games

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—The powerful United States' Pan-American Games squad, owning 26 of 30 gold medals in the entire show, may see its victory parade slacken a bit in today's semifinal round of track and field.

The West Indies Federation could put a slight dent in the U.S. monopoly on Soldier Field's red running strip tonight.

Three time West Indies runners, headed by George Kerr, a Big Ten champion from the University of Illinois, are a threat in the 400-meter event. The other two are Mal Spence and Basil Ince.

Of the 12 gold medals won by U.S. track athletes, two each have been captured by sprinter Ray Norton, who Monday night matched the world record of 20.6 for the 200-meter around one turn, and Mrs. Earlene Brown, powerful Los Angeles housewife, who now owns the discus and shotput titles. Norton Saturday won the 100-meter dash.

Around the Area With The County Agent!

By Bernie Wingert, Warren County Agricultural Agent

Today I'm taking a few minutes to go through the pile of unread letters, various advertisements, magazines, circulars, mimeographs, and bulletins that have been piling ever high on my desk. I once made a resolution that I would handle each day's mail as it came in, but for the past few months something's gone wrong. Steve Trutt, retired County Agent, once said the biggest problem that any county agent has is deciding what to keep and what to throw away. I agree.

Here's the way it goes—Open one yellow folder from Pittsburgh Producers Livestock Association quoting cattle, calf, hog and sheep prices for the week. Scan it quickly, throw it in the waste basket, pick it out again and put it on Assistant Agent Schlosser's desk—he may want to know the prices. Next a consolidated balance sheet for April, May and June from Dairymen's League Co-Operative Association Inc. No question here what to do with that. It goes into the circular file. I know the League is solvent.

Next is a letter from the Meadville Production Credit Association saying that the Farm Credit annual stockholders meeting will be held on November 5th—"and please if you hear of any agricultural group planning to have a meeting on this date, we certainly would appreciate your discouraging them from holding it on the same night as our meeting." The letter goes on. Also they would like to have the names and addresses of the two best 4-H record book winners in Warren County so they can present an award. This letter I'll have to keep awhile because we still don't have the winners selected. So 4-H agricultural members—make sure you have a complete, accurate record book if you want to win $5.00!

Next on the pile is a copy of a Soil Test Report to a man in Clarendon. Mr. Ned Henry sent in a soil sample from his dahlias, and strangely enough it came back requiring no additional lime or fertilizer. This is unusual for Warren County. Talking about soil samples—Jim Bakin, Agronomist from Penn State University was saying that a soil sample report was recently returned with this address: Mr. Cannon Valve, Company street, Canton, Penna. The man who had requested the report gave his address as Cannon Valve Company, Canton, Penna. Somebody had spring fever, I guess.

Let's see now—this next blue sheet is a report from J. Collins McSparran, State Grange Master, giving the latest information on happenings in the Senate and the House at Harrisburg. This we keep! It's a fine source of information to find out what bills are going through, and which ones are not, and who's pulling political skulduggery, etc.

And here's a folder announcing

Veterans News

Questions and Answers

Q—I am a veteran of World War Two and I never have used my GI loan privilege. Someone told me the other day that the time for applying for a loan is running short. How much time do I have in which to apply?

A—World War II veterans have until July 26, 1960 to apply for GI loans, and up to a year after that to close the deal.

Q—I'm confused about the term "Korea veteran." What are the official time limits that determine whether or not a former member of the armed forces is considered to be a veteran of the Korean Conflict?

A—The Korean Conflict, by official definition, extends from June 27, 1950 to January 31, 1955. Any veteran with all or part of his service between these two dates is considered a Korea veteran.

Q—As a veteran with a service-connected disability rated 50-percent I have been receiving extra compensation for a dependent daughter. Recently she passed age 18. Was I supposed to report this to VA?

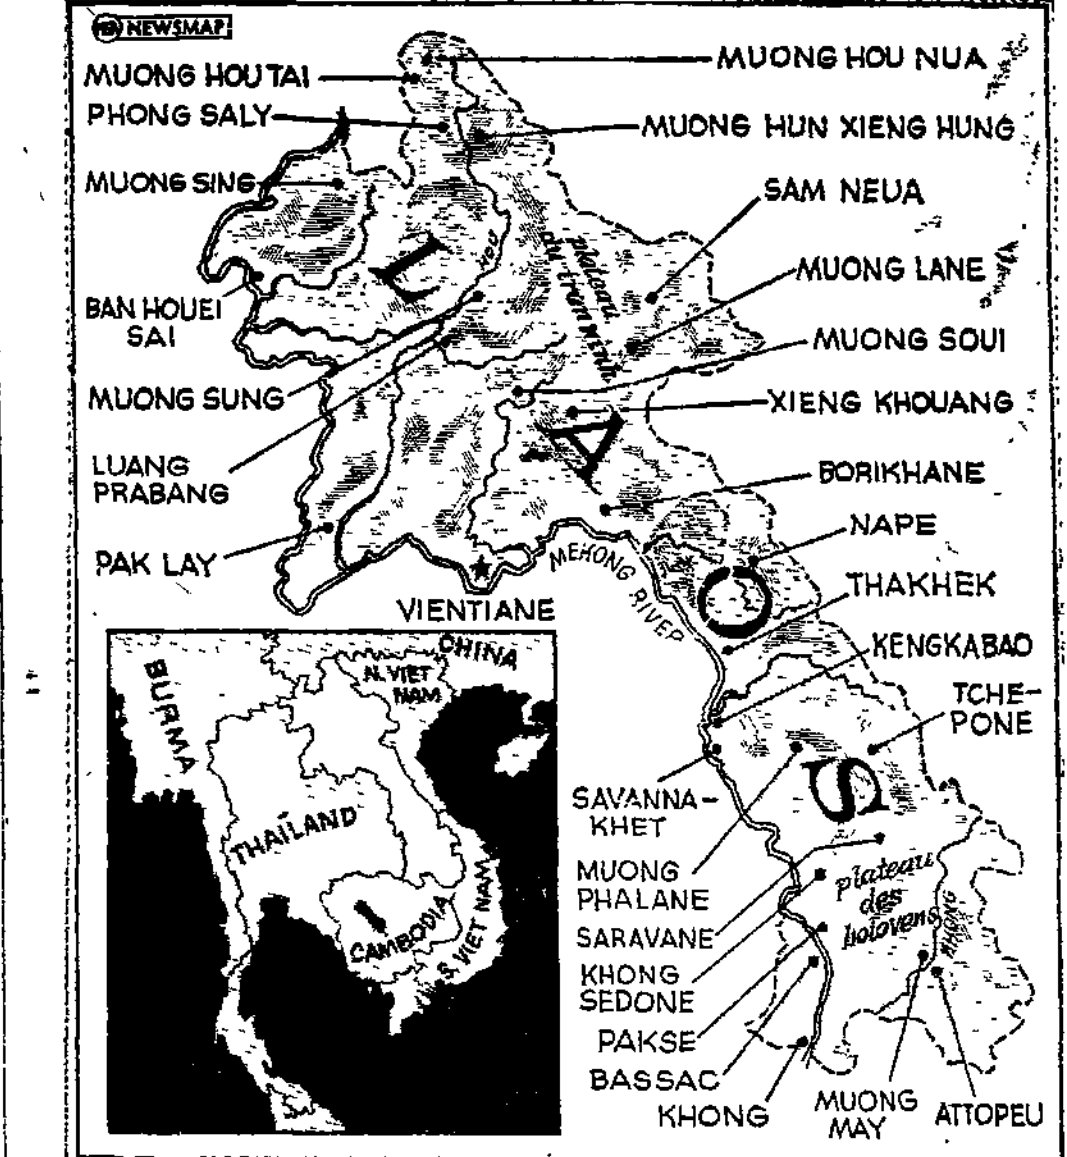

A—Yes. As soon as your daughter reached age 18 she was no longer legally a dependent. VA is not permitted to pay you extra compensation for her, and money received for her after age 18 must be returned.

Q—I'm thinking of converting my GI term insurance to a permanent plan. How many permanent plans are there to choose among?

A—There are six permanent GI insurance plans: Ordinary Life, 20-Year Payment, 20-Year Payment, 20-Year Endowment, Endowment at age 60, Endowment at Age 65. You may convert to any one of these plans, or a combination of them. Details at any VA office.

The United States, warned by the Laotian government that it faces collapse, has decided to send special military equipment to help defeat Communist-led rebel forces. For 1000 years a victim of aggression from one or another of its neighbors, Laos won independence in 1954 at the end of the Indochinese War. A year ago, an anti-Red government came to power. Crackdowns on the Communists touched off recent revolt in the primitive country's northern provinces, which Laos claims is being masterminded by Communist North Viet Nam.

Less Severe Plan For Regulation Of Plastic Bags

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House has approved a less severe plan for regulating plastic bags than one approved earlier.

By a vote of 180-11 the House Monday night sent to the Senate a bill requiring warning labels on bags with a combined width and length of 25 inches and one-one-tenth of an inch or less in thickness. It is still in Senate Committee.

Under the new plan, sale or distribution of such bags without the warning label would be subject to a $50 fine. The other plan proposed a $500 fine for any sale, use or distribution of these bags.

The warning label would advise of the danger to children from suffocation in the bags.

The legislation was intended as a safety measure following an increase in nationwide reports of fatal accidents involving small children.

The thinness of the plastic has been stressed because the thinner material—which has a greater clinging ability—is regarded as a greater hazard.

TV Personalities at McKean County Fair

Smethport — Television will provide a major share of entertainment for fair-goers at the McKean County Fair, opening here Labor Day, September 7th, according to fair officials.

Contracts for the appearance of one of the outstanding singing trios on TV screens was signed recently.

The trio, the Castle Sisters, Josie, Audrey, and Joanie, who scored heavily on the Peter Lind Hayes' Show, will come here from the Alabama State Fair for one of their few outdoor appearances.

The girls were formerly residents of a suburb of Pittsburgh, Pa., and started their career by playing for P. T. A. organizations, gaining experience and building their reputations. Their first break came when they were asked to substitute for Frank Parker at the Twin Coaches in Pittsburgh. The Castle Sisters are scored such a huge success that Arthur Godfrey booked them immediately to appear in hotels and night clubs throughout the country, but had to turn them down because of school. Among these was a recording contract with Roulette Records which they accepted. They now have several recordings going for them, two of which, "Drifting and Dreaming" and "Lucky Girl" are already hit tunes.

Their appearance at the McKean County Fair will be like old home week for them as they will be visited by many of their old friends, and many new, who will want to congratulate them for their successful appearance at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas and the Chase Hotel in St. Louis.

Nixon was here for a dinner with news executives of member newspapers of The Associated Press. In an off the record discussion with California and Nevada editors of AP papers, Nixon briefed them on observations made and opinions formed during his meetings with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

More than 80 newsmen attended.

In a press conference before the private dinner, Nixon said Red Chinese intrusions into India have been going on for more than a year and a half and only lately has it been intensified to the point where Prime Minister Nehru has felt he had to make an issue of it.

Ike To Be Host to Wartime Leaders in London Tonight

LONDON (AP)—The smoke of good cigars wafts gently through the chandeliers above the dining table of London's Windsor House. The brandy passes, and the room hums with talk.

At the head of the table sits President Eisenhower. Around him are 23 of his British associates from the days of World War II.

That will be the scene tonight when the President gives a stag dinner for his wartime colleagues at the residence of U. S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney.

Since the war days, though, a number of books have been written and speeches made, in which the old chums have given frank opinions about each other.

Some of the opinions have been highly critical. Tonight several of the critics meet their targets face to face.

The imaginary conversation that follows is constructed from the memoirs and other public statements.

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery: "Ike and I were poles apart when it came to conduct of war. He thought we British weren't doing our share of the fighting and he said so."

Maj. Gen. Sir Francis de Guinand: Monty's wartime chief of staff: "Why on earth do you keep saying how much you like Ike but keep on attacking him?"

Monty: "I sent him a Christmas card, much warmer than I sent anybody else, and he never acknowledged it."

Field Marshal Viscount Alanbrooke chief of the imperial general staff when Eisenhower was supreme Allied commander: "Eisenhower had never even commanded a battalion in action. No wonder he was at a loss what to do."

Sir Winston Churchill: "Generals never had any ideas of their own. Whenever I raised ideas they raised nothing but objections."

Alanbrooke: "Winston sometimes thinks one thing one minute and another at the next. He is incorrigible and I am exhausted."

Alanbrooke: "He (Eisenhower) caused me great anxiety. I had little confidence in his ability to handle the situation."

Monty: "I could never understand why Ike could never understand my plan."

Eisenhower: "I've been criticized by everybody who can write a book."

Alanbrooke: "Yes, he (Montgomery) is a difficult mixture to handle. Brilliant commander in action but liable to untold errors due to lack of tact."

Monty: "I am awfully sad. If I have lost the friendship of that great good man it will be very depressing to me."

Eisenhower: "Why does he have to do it? Why can't he wait until we're all dead?"

Photos Recovered from the Nose Cone of Atlas Missile

WASHINGTON (AP)—What would the earth look like to someone rocketing 700 miles out in space?

Things wouldn't be too clear, but you could make out the outlines of continents.

The curves of South America and Africa could be seen and, with a good geographic background, you might find the deep, dark Amazon River delta in Brazil.

Africa and South America would look like next door neighbors.

These are some of the answers provided by photographs that have been recovered from a camera in the nose cone of an Atlas ballistic missile that zoomed into space a week ago.

Lawrence's Public Works Recommendations Draw Varied Reaction in Capitol

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence's recommendations to spend nearly 106 million dollars in the next two years on public works projects drew a cautious reaction in the Legislature today.

Sen. George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton) objected to a companion plan to increase the borrowing capacity of the General State Authority by nearly 82 million dollars to finance most of the capital improvements.

The figure, he said, should be closer to the 30-million-dollar mark since the borrow-and-build GSA already is authorized to sell 480 millions in bonds.

The budget, although using a figure of nearly 106 millions for capital expenditures and 82 million in GSA borrowing, notes that 26 per cent would have to be added to the borrowing figure to meet contingencies.

If accepted by the Legislature, the contingency allowance would mean the program would cost 127 millions and that the GSA debt would have to be increased by 101 millions.

But other lawmakers said they wanted more time to examine the unprecedented, 128-page capital budget before commenting on its merits.

The governor, noting that he accepted the proposals of the State Planning Board on public works as his own, said there were many projects at state institutions and colleges and flood control projects that demand immediate attention.

Lawrence noted that various state departments and state-aided colleges requested more than 725 million dollars in capital construction in the next six years.

The State Planning Board, in preparing the capital budget for Lawrence, noted that it was not unanimous in its recommendation.

H. W. Prentiss Jr., retired Lancaster industrialist and former president of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, acknowledged that the projects were needed but added:

"It is a great mistake for the state to borrow and increase the debt and thus add fuel to the fires of inflation under its current financial condition."

Prentiss urged that necessary public works be undertaken on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Of the nearly 106 millions in spending urged by Lawrence for the next two years, more than 25 millions would come from current funds. The remainder would be raised by GSA bonds.

The biggest portion of capital expenditures would go to the Forests and Waters Department. The money—$29,326,135—would be principally for flood control and state parks and forests.

Other legislative developments: STATION WAGON FEES—The Senate Monday night completed a legislative action on a House-passed measure to tack an extra $2 a-year fee on registration of station wagons.

LABOR AND INDUSTRY PROBE—Sen. John T. Van Sant (R-Lehigh) asked the Senate to investigate what he termed discrimination by the Labor and Industry Department in its school building inspection program.

HOUSING—The Senate Labor and Industry Committee killed the administration's plan to ban discrimination in selling or renting homes because of race, creed, color or national origin.

CONSUMER PROTECTION—A state agency to look after the interest of the buying public was proposed in an administration bill introduced in the House.

PLASTIC BAGS—The House passed, 130-11, legislation to require plastic bags of a certain size or thickness to bear a warning label.

Congress

projects were not included in his original budget.

Some Republican congressmen are faced with a problem. They have pushed the projects in their districts but at the same time are in agreement with the President's belief that the public works projects already underway should be finished. The President believes the other projects should then be tackled. But he has stated he believes present projects should be paid for before new costs are undertaken.

Senator Clark's office yesterday told the Times-Mirror that there has been a flood of mail urging passage of the bill to include Kinzua Dam and other flood projects in Pennsylvania. The majority of the mail was described by the senator's staff as spontaneous and not the usual organized campaign.

The senator's office said there also has been considerable mail against construction of the Kinzua Dam, most of it from outside the state and region of the dam. This mail has been from persons sympathetic to the welfare of Indians.

The Seneca Indian Nation's injunction effort to stop construction of the dam was rejected by the Supreme Court. After that the House approved the project. The Senate added $1,400,000 to $1,300,000 previously allocated the dam. The veto delayed the $1,400,000.

In Pittsburgh, Mayor Thomas J. Gallagher sent telegrams to congressmen to override the veto. The Associated Press reported. In telegrams to Pennsylvania's two senators and Allegheny County's four representatives, Gallagher described the veto as an example of "short-sighted economy."

The speaker of the lower house refused to permit debate on the report until Prime Minister Nehru could be present. Nehru went to the airport today for a brief meeting with Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan. Although Menon was in Parliament, he refused to say if the report were true.

Members complained angrily that the report was causing anxiety throughout the nation, coming as it did when Chinese Communist troops are trespassing on territory claimed by India along the remote, uninhabited frontier with Tibet.

Forester Offers Advice on Conservation Reserve Plan

Farmers who qualify for participation in the 1960 Conservation Reserve Program have an opportunity to reduce burdensome crop surpluses and, at the same time, plant their land in valuable trees, according to an announcement by Allegheny National Forest Supervisor John E. Franson.

"State forestry representatives," continued Dr. Franson, "are glad to advise farmers as to the most profitable species of trees which are best suited to a particular area. County Agricultural Stabilization offices will supply the name and location of the nearest State forestry office."

This will be the fifth year of the Conservation Reserve Program, under which farmers contract to withdraw general crop-land from production and protect it with conservation practices for periods ranging from 5 to 10 years. The 1960 program will be essentially the same as the 1959 program, except that less new acreage will be taken into the program than last year—only about 5 million acres nationally as compared with nearly 13 million acres last year.

As in previous years, the 1960 program will be conducted on an offer-and-acceptance basis. The first step is for the farmer to inform his local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office of the land he wishes to place in the program and to request that a basic per acre rate be established for that land. These rate requests may be filed at the county office beginning August 24 and must be filed not later than September 10 if the farmer wishes to be considered for a 1960 contract.

At this point, the county committee will establish the rate—setting it 10 per cent higher if all eligible cropland on the farm is to be retired. After the basic rate has been established, the farmer may apply for a contract at any figure below that rate. In the event that the county receives more contracts than it can accept, priority will be given to the farmer who offers his land at the lowest rate compared with the established basic rate for his land. For example, if the basic rate on a farmer's land is set at $12.00 per acre, he will have a better chance of receiving a contract if he offers the land at $9.00 per acre than if he offers it at $10.00 or more.

For most farms, placing land under contract will require a corresponding acreage reduction in grains and row crops, which are known as Soil Bank base crops. The per-acre rate will be earned each year the contract is in effect. In addition, the farmer can receive a cost-share payment or assist in the establishment of approved conservation uses on his land.

PENNEY WRECK

Eight cars of a 113-car Pennsylvania Railroad freight train derailed shortly after Sunday about three miles north of Port Allegany. The Penney said no one was hurt, and its wreck crews cleared the single-blocked track and restored service at 8:02 p. m. The train was running out of Renovo bound for Buffalo. The derailment was the second on the same run this month. On Aug. 15, 13 cars of a 138-car freight jumped tracks at Eldred.
